

A review through the visionary eyes of Soleira Green

A year of extraOrdinary heroes, twitter mania, visionary business, gracious power, ecstatic frequency and moving towards the miraculous

extraOrdinary heroes

We began 2009 with a whopper of a celebration of some extraOrdinary heroes who demonstrated just how the world is changing ... people power, leaderful collaborations and a celebration of unique expression.

January 2009, Michelle & Barak Obama rocked the world! Ordinary folks who grew up just like you and me, who stood for something bigger and better for the world and who became the new first family in the USA. In my books, they continue to represent the integrity, values and commitment to the things that really matter in life. They've shown us that there is a greater collective will and if you're willing, it can show up in any and all of us.

In January, extraOrdinary hero, Captain Sullenberger and his crew, successfully landed Airways Flight 1549 in New York's Hudson River with zero casualties to the amazement of the world. And in the same month, Britain's Got Talent gave us Susan Boyle, an extraOrdinary woman with a voice that swept the internet and moved the world. Singing 'I Dreamed a Dream', she showed us (1) that you can't judge the genius in someone by how they look and (2) that there are no time limits on your dreams. As long as you can dream them, you can fulfil them.

twitter mania

In 2009 web 2.0 has taken us to a whole other level of global connection ... and I hear that web 3.0 is coming! We can now live in each other's pockets moment by moment through social media like twitter, facebook and more! We can see what's really going on, live, from real people on the ground, without the distortion of new media's interpretive slant. Our interconnection is staggeringly wonderful and anything you're looking for can be found in an instant these days. What a perfect analogy for the accessibility of the living consciousness that's been flooding us throughout 2009!

ha! to the recession and ah-ha! to a new kind of visionary business

Our network has spent this year energising abundance for the whole world, for every single person in every single nation. We refused to buy into the concept of recession, seeing it simply as a passing away of the old and the emergence of the new. Every week, we envisioned Life surging and soaring into soil, oceans, people and businesses, bringing alive creativity, innovation, generative play and new ways of sourcing economical well being. In May we hosted the Dynamic Business conference, sourcing the consciousness of visionary entrepreneurship ... the emergence of conscious, abundant businesses that make a difference in the world. Our own business, the Visionary Network, is one example of this as are companies like Innocent, Google, Pixar Studios and more.

moving off the grid into the flow stream

I can't begin to tell you the numbers of people I've worked with this year who've stepped off the old paradigm grid to immerse themselves in the flow stream of potentiality, contribution, integrity and visionary creation. Leaving corporate jobs, they're creating businesses based on passion, vision and things that matter to them. Making a difference is on everyone's lips as we search for and immerse ourselves in meaningful living.

gracious power

A new kind of power hit the planet this year ... GRACIOUS power! Along with hyper-speed, creative flow has come an ability to source Life into play all around us with an ease and vitality that's breathtaking. I'm not saying that everyone has experienced this yet, but it is there with a simple tweak of belief ... that Life can soar through you and light up potential all around you. Stress ... busted! Creativity ... off the charts! Potentiality ... easy peasy!

ecstatic, exhilarating frequency

This year we entered the ecstatic realms of vibrational frequency. If you're not quite sure what that means, try this. Seek an ecstatic, exhilarating relationship with something you love and see what happens to your energy. Off the charts, right! This year, we've been learning to live, work and play in this frequency range, bringing new ways of working and limitless potential present onto the world.

moving towards the miraculous

This new frequency has given us access to the miraculous and we're playing within this new realm to discover how to bring unprecedented possibilities into reality. In our work, we're playing with the art & science of being ... unknowing someone into an evolving magnificence of being who can source magical living, alivening presence, creative genius and miraculous motion for all.

integrating the new 'human' being

If you're one of those people who's been experiencing a massive metamorphosis over the last 2-3 years, you can count yourself as one of the forerunners of a new 'human' being. From July through to September, the vibrational frequencies that were sourcing this shift calmed down somewhat in order to let people everywhere integrate this new level of themselves. In 2010 it's time to find full expression for this new beingness that we've called ourselves into. Whether you call it greater being, cosmic being, super connective being, source being or something else, this new level of us is extraordinary, taking ordinary people into the realms of extraOrdinary creation.

we're there now!

One of the key things that I saw in 2009 was the 'at last ... we're there now' realisation. This year it felt like everything we'd been working towards in the past decade and a half finally came together, integrated and became the predominant reality. In other words, what we've been doing has worked! We are partnering with our magnificent Earth. We are finding a new level of super connectivity with everything and ALL! We are evolving into wondrous beings of enormous creational possibility. 2010 will be a year of collaborative, collective creation as visionary possibilities leap into reality!
